

I am Colin Hunter, CEO of Potential Squared UK and around the globe.

I have been working with Performance Role Play Training in Business Role Play, Forum Theatre and Facilitation and I can't recommend them highly enough. They are professional and they have much more capacity above and beyond their acting capability. They have helped me understand more about the market in South Africa. They have taken their skills abroad for Potential Squared and have worked with us in the UK and South America – which was an amazing experience.

They have an ability to adapt to the difference circumstances, to the different clients, to learn, to be professional and to be in the moment with us. We are very demanding about how we use our Business Role Players and therefore I can say without hesitation that they are our go-to people, whether it be in South Africa, South America, or anywhere around the globe.

I recommend them highly and hope you experience them in the same way when you engage with them.

Yours Sincerely

Colin Hunter
